

ABSTRACT

A method and composition for repairing bone in a human. A high-molecular hydrogel such as a hyaluronate is mixed with a bovine or other animal bone particulate or with artificial bone such as hydroxyapatite particulate. A growth-inducing peptide may also be included.

60078714_1.DOC

2005796.01301